www.hiv-druginteractions.org			LIVERPOOL
		Interaction Report
Report ID: Date Produced:	21 May 2025
Antiretroviral Treatment		Co-medications
favirenz (EFV)		Loratadine

This report lists the summaries of potential interactions (i.e. "red", "amber" and "yellow" classifications) for the drugs in the table above.

Interactions with a "green" or "grey" classification (i.e. no clinically significant interaction or no clear data) have been checked and are listed at the end of this report, but summaries are not shown.

For full details of all interactions, see www.hiv-drug interactions.org .

Description of the interactions

No clinically significant interaction expected (GREEN)

Efavirenz (EFV) + Loratadine

© Liverpool Drug Interactions Group, University of Liverpool, 3rd Floor William Henry Duncan Building, 6 West Derby Street, Liverpool, L7 8TX.

The reported for information only. It is not interacted to replace a consultation within a regrophicity qualitied health polescentral provides related to a second difference of interacting medications, and a lassed on relevent data in the public domain. No clinical activity against medication on presented relates only to how no excepted difference of interacting medications, and a lassed on relevent data in the public domain. No clinical activity against medication on presented relates only to how no excepted difference of interacting medications, and a lassed on relevent data in the public domain. No clinical activity against medication is the adjusted of interacting medications, and a lassed on relevent data in the public domain. No clinical activity against medication with a regroup data in the public domain of the second balance beyond pharmacomatic interactions between how datas, The University of Liverpool harmices balar related responses to relate and adjusted in the adjusted on related balance beyond pharmacomatic interactions and the users that independent in relation to the adjusted on related balance beyond pharmacomatic interactions and the users that independent in relation balance beyond pharmacomatic interactions and consistent with unrent knowledge and paratice. However, the University of Liverpool hards to be increasconde to the the increasconde to the the increasconde to the the increasconde to the the continued pharmacomatic interaction activity and advisor and and an interactivity of the excepted balance beyond pharmacomatic section and the users of information in this public domains in the section of the section of the section and and the users of information in the section of the